

Dorota Dobija

Dorota Dobija is a professor of Accounting, Governance, and Society at Kozminski University, as well as a business trainer and coach. She was a Fulbright Foundation scholar in 2001 at the University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign. For many years, Dorota served as the Vice-Rector for Research, International Cooperation, and Faculty Development. She has worked as a visiting professor at several universities in the US and Europe. Additionally, she has coordinated numerous national and international research projects in the fields of knowledge management, corporate governance, and financial and non-financial reporting. Dorota has received numerous academic awards and honors, including the CEEMAN Research Champion award. Her recent research has been published in journals such as Government Information Quarterly, European Management Journal, Corporate Social Responsibility and Environmental Management, and Accounting, Auditing, and Accountability Journal. Recently, Dorota was appointed as an associate editor for the European Management Journal and also serves on the editorial board for Accounting Forum and the Journal of Public Budgeting, Accounting, and Financial Management.