

Serdar Özkan

Prof. Dr. Özkan, born in 1970 in Izmir, graduated from Dokuz Eylul University Business Administration Department in 1994, received his master degree in accounting in 1996 and his PhD degree in business administration, major in accounting and finance in 2000 at the same University. Between the years of 2000-2008, he worked as a faculty member in Dokuz Eylul University. In 2008, he started working in Izmir University of Economics, and since 2010, he has been the Head of Business Administration Department. Prof. Özkan is the author of several books and academic papers in national and international journals. His research interests include theory and applications of IFRS, financial reporting and analysis, capital markets research in accounting, corporate governance, accounting education, and accounting information systems. Beside his academic roles, he has several positions in professional associations and committees. To name a few, in 2006, he performed as the member of IFRS for SMEs committee in Turkish Accounting Standards Board (TMSK) and as the head of committee for ISA-250 in Turkish Auditing Standards Board (TUDESK). In 2007, he was appointed as Academic Advisor to International Federation of Accountants (IFAC), Developing Nations Committee. He has also been serving as an academic advisor to International Relations Affairs unit of the Accountancy Body of Turkey (TURMOB) and to The Chamber of Certified Public Accountants of Izmir (IZSMMMO). Since 2005, he serves as a EU registered business consultant to European Union Business Development Centers in Turkey.