

Alfredas Chmieliauskas

Alfredas Chmieliauskas is the President of ISM University of Management and Economics, Vilnius, Lithuania and the President of the Lithuanian Project Management Association (LPVA), First Assessor of the National Certification Body authorized by the International Project Management Association (IPMA).

He is also a university professor, teaching Project Management, Change Management, and Strategic Management courses in undergraduate, Masters' and PhD study programs at universities in Lithuania and other countries

He has been working as a business consultant and has conducted about 250 training and consulting programs, as well as performed project management maturity analysis of more than 100 companies.

Alfredas Chmieliauskas is also a public policy consultant, providing consulting and training services to policy makers in the Central and Eastern European countries on governmental program implementation.