

Cameron A. Batmanghlich

Prof. Cameron A. Batmanghlich received his PhD, titled 'Corporate Leadership and Ethics' with distinction from University of Bradford, School of Management. Prof. Batmanghlich is currently the Deputy Dean of the Graduate School of Business and the Director of the MBA Department and Executive Education at Almaty Management University (ALMU), running joint degree programs with Maastricht School of Management and Sheffield Business School. He is also the Executive Director of the newly launched scientific journal called 'Eurasian Journal of Leadership' (e-JoL). Prof. Batmanghlich holds the post of Director of Post-Doctoral Studies at Instituto de Estudios Superiores Spenta Mexic; Spenta University Spenta University Mexico. As an active researcher, Prof. Batmanghlich is a member of the Paris Research in Norms Management and Law (PRIMAL) within 'Corporate Social Responsibility and Social Accountability' research group; Université Paris Ouest Nanterre La Defense, a member of the editorial board at 'Aisa Digest', the 'International Journal of Small Economies', a permanent member of the editorial board at the 'Daena: International Journal of Good Conscious'. He was the keynote speaker at First and Second American Marketing Conference in Bolivia. Beside academic activities, Prof. Batmanghlich delivers corporate training and workshops in leadership, ethical leadership, organizational change and other management related courses. He has over 15 years of experience as an executive, business consultant and entrepreneur across three continents and in industries such as Bio Fuel, Management consulting, Electronics and hospitality. His latest book is called 'Why Leaders Fail Ethically; A Paradigmatic investigation of Leadership' (Springer, USA).