

Jukka Maksimainen

Jukka Maksimainen is Managing Partner of McKinsey Kazakhstan. He relocated to Kazakhstan in 2013 to open the first McKinsey office there, having lived in South Africa for almost 6 years. In Kazakhstan, Jukka is working with McKinsey's experts from around the globe on projects that cover a range of industry and functional topics.

Since joining McKinsey in 2006, he has led over 60 projects on six continents, primarily for companies in the resource sector, sovereign wealth funds, and resource-rich governments. In the oil and gas industry, he worked for national oil companies (NOCs) and international oil companies in Africa, the Middle East, and North America.

Prior to McKinsey, Jukka worked in the commodities-trading team of Nordea Bank, a leading Scandinavian bank; in the strategy department of Wärtsilä, which produces power solutions for energy and marine markets; and as a board member of a family-owned private equity firm.