

Toomas Danneberg

Toomas Danneberg is Vice Rector for External Relations and Business Development; Head of Management in Digital Society MBA and Business Innovation MBA program at Estonian Business School, Estonia. Since 2013 he has served top management position at Estonian Business School as vice rector for studies and development and vice rector for international collaboration.

His research is focusing on future of work and professional skills of graduates to meet the demand for future work. He has a Master's degree in marketing from Wageningen University (Holland) and Engineering from Tallinn University of Technology. He has worked in the field of business development and marketing since 1996 as entrepreneur running his own consultancy business. He started his marketing career in Rabobank International, Holland. Next he moved on to work in Estonia in advertising and financial sector. Toomas Danneberg has been a lecturer of marketing management at several Estonian universities since 1998. He is also a frequent speaker at international business and educational conferences on education management and entrepreneurial education. He is a board member of Estonian Service Industry Association.