

Piet Naudé

Piet Naudé holds an MA in Philosophy (cum laude) and Doctor's degree in Systematic Theology from the University of Stellenbosch, South Africa. He is a Professor of Ethics and former Vice-Rector: Academic at Nelson Mandela University in Port Elizabeth. On 1 September 2014 Piet was appointed as Director of the Stellenbosch University Business School (USB).

He has received a number of national and international academic awards, including an Alexander von Humboldt Foundation scholarship to the Universities of Heidelberg and Bamberg (Germany), and life membership of the Centre for Theological Enquiry at Princeton University (USA).

Piet is a rated scientist by the National Research Foundation of South Africa and has published over 90 articles in accredited journals and presented more than 100 papers at national and international conferences. His monograph on the Belhar confession was awarded the Andrew Murray-Desmond Tutu prize for academic literature in 2011. In the same year he won the national Vodacom Journalist of the Year competition for his work as a columnist.

Piet serves on the boards of The Ethics Institute, the Wilderness Foundation Africa, and USB-ED, a private executive education company.

He regularly speaks at business, academic and civil society conferences and has done consulting work for national and international listed companies on issues of ethics and governance.