

Zoltan Buzady

Dr. Zoltan Buzady, Associate Professor of Leadership, Corvinus Business School, Hungary & Director of the Leadership & Flow Global Research Network

Guided by the motto "Learning, Leading, Leapfrogging", Zoltan has a quarter-century of experimentation and innovation at the interface of Leadership Development, Managing People and Strategic Management for Growth. As a CEEMAN-IMTA alumnus, he has authored several innovative teaching materials and academic articles.

He is Founder-Director of Leadership & Flow Global Research Network, a global leadership development program run on cloud-computing, driven by gamification and conveying the value-based principles of Flow-promoting Leadership, as developed by world-famous Prof. Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi who founded happiness & creativity studies. In short, a Leadership Development that makes work life more meaningful and is applicable in different cultural and organizational contexts.

Award-winner of CEEMAN-Emerald 'Best Case Study & Teaching Note' in 2011 & 2014; CEEMAN Champion in Pedagogical Innovation 2018. Official MoC Affiliate Network Institutional/Faculty Member of Prof. Michael Porter's Institute for Strategy and Competitiveness at HBS (2016, 2019).