

Andrew Main Wilson

Andrew Main Wilson is CEO of of Association of MBAs & Business Graduates Association (AMBA & BGA). He has a wealth of experience leading senior teams and managing complex organisations in the commercial and not-for-profit sectors. His extensive management experience includes running a premium brand membership organisation and building high level executive education services during his sixteen years with the UK's Institute of Directors (IoD) as Chief Operating Officer and Managing Director of IoD Enterprises. During this period he launched a suite of qualifications including the Certificate and the Diploma in Company Direction and the Privy Council approved Chartered Director Accreditation. Before joining the IoD he was Marketing and Commercial Director of Thomas Cook and Sales and Marketing Director of Citibank Diners Club.

Andrew has a strong interest in global leadership excellence. He has travelled to more than 150 countries and interviewed many of the world's most famous leaders, including Bill Gates, Jack Welch, HRH Duke of Edinburgh, Archbishop Desmond Tutu and Lady Thatcher in her last ever filmed interview.

He has joined the Association of MBAs as Chief Executive on 5 August 2013.