

Christoph Stückelberger

Christoph Stückelberger is a Professor of Ethics who has been working in the field of global ethics education for four decades, across various universities. He has held positions as a Professor (emeritus) at the University of Basel, a Distinguished Professor at the Technical University MEPhI in Moscow, a Visiting Professor at GOU University in Enugu, Nigeria, Minzu University in Beijing, China, and Leeds Beckett University Business School in Leeds, UK. He has received honorary doctorates (Dr. h.c.) from two universities in DR Congo and Bulgaria.

His primary areas of research and teaching include global ethics applied to economic and business ethics, environmental ethics (with his first book on this topic published in 1979), trade ethics, finance ethics (including tax ethics), political ethics, development ethics, cyber ethics, and philanthropy. As an author and editor, he has published over seventy books and hundreds of articles on applied ethics, all of which are available for free download on www.globethics.net/publications and his website <https://www.christophstueckelberger.ch/publishing/>. His seminal work, "Environment and Development: An Ethical Orientation", has been published in German, Chinese, Korean, and Indonesian. He serves as a consultant on ethics in business, finance, development, innovation, and other fields of applied ethics (www.ethicsconsult.org).

Christoph Stückelberger is the Founder and President of the global ethics network, the "Globethics Foundation" (GE), and the Geneva Agape Foundation (GAF), both based in Geneva, Switzerland. He also held the position of Executive Director of the Geneva Agape Foundation and currently serves as Vice-President of the Ethics Committee of the Ethical Investment Fund "Arete" in Zurich.

His former professional roles include serving as a Senior Ethics Advisor to the United Nations Scaling up Nutrition Programme (SUN), Director of the Swiss Development Organisation "Bread for all," Founder and President of Transparency International Switzerland, Member of the Commission for International Cooperation of the Swiss Government (for 14 years) and President of its sub-commission on WTO, Member of the Swiss Ethics Committee on Non-human Biotechnology of the Swiss Government, Member and President of the Council of the Swiss Import Promotion Programme SIPPO (supporting imports from developing countries), President of the international microfinance institution ECLOF (working in 30 developing countries), Founding President of the Swiss Association Church and Environment OeKU, and a member and consultant of various ethics committees of both large and small banks (international, Switzerland, Germany, China), as well as a Sovereign Wealth Fund. He has also served as a consultant to international companies and as a member of the Boards of academic Ethics Centers. Stückelberger was actively involved in negotiations on debt cancellation between the Swiss Government and developing countries and in asset recovery efforts in cases involving Marcos, Suharto, Abacha, and Mobutu