

Olin Oedekoven

Olin Oedekoven, PhD, is the president and CEO of Peregrine Academic Services and the Peregrine Leadership Institute. The academic services company provides online exam and learning services to institutions of higher learning to assist learning outcomes evaluation and programmatic assessment. The leadership institute provides leadership, management, strategic planning, and human resource consulting services to client throughout the world. Dr. Oedekoven has over 35 years of experience in higher education, leadership, and organizational administration with earned degrees in science, business administration, management, and strategic planning.