

Johannes Siebert

Johannes Siebert habilitated in Behavioral OR and Decision Making at the University of Bayreuth, Germany, and is Professor for Decision Sciences at MCI | THE ENTREPREUNRIAL SCHOOL®, Innsbruck, Austria. He has published papers in international leading journals such as Operations Research and European Journal of Operational Research. He is Member of the Executive Committee of the International Society on MCDM, Member of the Coordinating Board of the European Working Group of Behavioral Operations Research, in the Editorial Board of the INFORMS journal Decision Analysis, and Member of the Advisor Board of the Alliance for Decision Education. Johannes research objective is to contribute to better-informed decision making and thereby to making better decisions for individuals as well as for organizations. Overall, he raised more than 600.000 Euro third-party funding. He also works as a business consultant for both public and private organizations in the US and in Europe. Twice, he was acknowledged as finalist in the practice award of the Decision Analysis Society (INFORMS).