

Suddha Chakravarti

Suddha Chakravarti is Head of Research at EU Business School, and Editor-in-Chief of ONResearch – its research platform. He is also a lecturer in International Relations and Law, and Dissertation Coordinator (Swiss Campuses) at EU Business School. His areas of interest in consulting, research and teaching broadly include global governance, geopolitics/geoeconomics, rise of new powers, resource security issues, risk assessment, international development and poverty reduction.

An Indian citizen, he holds a B.A., LL.B (Hons) degree from the National Academy of Legal Studies and Research (NALSAR), University of Law, India, and a Master of International Relations (MIR) and Doctor of International Relations (DIR) from the Geneva School of Diplomacy, specializing in resource security issues and energy poverty in India.

He has previously worked as a researcher for Commonwealth Secretariat project in Geneva, Africa Progress Panel, and at CUTS, Geneva Resource Centre, focusing on international trade, development, governance and security issues.