

Irina Sennikova

Professor Irina Sennikova is the Rector of University of Business, Arts and Technology “RISEBA” or RISEBA University (Riga, Latvia), previously known as Riga International School of Economics and Business Administration. She holds an MA degree in English philology from the University of Latvia, MBA and MSc in Management from IEDC-Bled School of Management (Slovenia), and PhD from Kozminski University (Poland).

Apart from her administrative responsibilities, she teaches courses in management, leadership and organizational behavior at RISEBA. Irina completed International Teachers Development Program at IESE Barcelona (2002), International Entrepreneurship Colloquium on Participant Centre Learning at Harvard Business School (2004), CEEMAN International Management Teachers Academy (2011). She also completed faculty development program on Adizes Theory and Practice for the Best Business Schools at Adizes Graduate School (2013) and went through Adizes Integrators Training on Leading Highly Effective Teams (2015). Her research interests lie mainly in the area of intellectual entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial leadership and leadership development, as well as in the development of business education and its internationalization.

Irina Sennikova is a Vice President of CEEMAN - Association for Management Development in Dynamic Societies and a member of CEEMAN accreditation board. She is also a member of EPAS committee at EFMD – European Foundation for Management Development and is a founding member of International Entrepreneurship Forum. She is a member of the advisory board of AMSIB (Amsterdam School of International Business), Netherlands and ISCTE Business School, Portugal.