

Paul Mallette

Paul Mallette is Director of International Operations at Peregrine Global Services. He has more than 30 years of experience in higher education in both teaching and administrative positions in the US, Europe, the Middle East, and Asia. He has been active in quality assurance in higher education for more than 15 years specializing in business school accreditation. Prior to Peregrine, he was director of European Operations at the International Accreditation Council for Business Education and Director of Accreditations at the European Federation of Schools.

As an adjunct professor, Paul has taught at the NEOMA Business School, Cultural Exchanges Abroad (CEA), Ecole Supérieur de Gestion, and Ecole National des Arts & Métiers in France; American University of Science and Technology in Lebanon, and FH Kufstein Business School in Austria. In addition to his teaching and accreditation work, he served as the Director of Training at International Masters Publishers in Paris and Director of Admissions at Clark University's Graduate School of Management in Worcester, Massachusetts.

A native of Boston, he received his Bachelor of Science degree from Boston University, his Masters of Business Administration degree from Clark University and a Certificate of Management Studies from Harvard University's Division of Continuing Education.